Corporate Semantic Web Info Day - Business meets Research

Berlin, Germany, February 20th, 2009 – Funded by the German Federal Ministry of Education and Research (BMBF) and the BMBF Innovation Initiative for the New German Länder – Entrepreneurial Regions, the InnoProfile – Corporate Semantic Web (CSW) project took up work at the beginning of February 2008 at the Freie Universität Berlin. Today CSW announced its call for participation for its first 2009 information event.

On Friday, March 20, 2009 an Information Event will be held at

Corporate Semantic Web, from 9:30 to 4:45 pm in Berlin, Konrad-Zuse-Institut, Takustraße 7, 14195 Berlin

During this one-day workshop the CSW project and their academic and industrial partners will present the results and developments of the last year. The program is organized in cooperation with the "Wachstums Kern BIZYCLE" (funded by BMBF-Innovationsinitiative Neue Länder) and the first Berlin Semantic Web Meetup.

This Workshop offers a comprehensive presentation of projects and research work in different topics, in particular data integration, interoperability, domain specific knowledge representation and knowledge management in the corporate world. Excellent talks from the university research and business provide a broad insight in interesting topics. In addition to the lectures and tutorials all participants are invited to take part in interesting discussions about relevant open research issues from business and the university research during coffee breaks, lunch and the evening meetup.

Please visit the CSW-Workshop website for further information:
